

Dr. Juana Flores-Le Roux is a Board-certified specialist in Endocrinology and Nutrition. Her current appointments are as Head of the Endocrinology and Nutrition Department of the Hospital Parc de Salut Mar in Barcelona and Associate Professor in Medicine at the Autonomous University of Barcelona, Spain. Dr. Flores teaches students and residents in the area of diabetes and other endocrine disorders in pregnancy. Her main fields of interest are diabetes and endocrinological diseases in pregnancy and intensive insulin therapy. She also does clinical research in the area of Diabetes in Pregnancy and bariatric surgery and is a relevant author of more than 40 papers in peer-reviewed journals.