

Vaccine against hCG; State of the art
G.P. Talwar, India

Presentation will cover Progress made on a recombinant anti-hCG vaccine developed as a contraceptive vaccine for preventing pregnancy without impairment of ovulation and derangement of menstrual regularity and bleeding profiles. Time permitting the utility of this vaccine for treating Advanced stage Cancers expressing ectopically hCG will also be brought out.