

Professor Guekht is Director of Moscow Research and Clinical Center for Neuropsychiatry and Professor at the Neurology and Neurosurgery Department of the Russian National Research Medical University; she is also the Chief Neurologists of the Healthcare Department of the Moscow Government.

Professor Guekht's research interests are epilepsy, cognition, stroke and neuroepidemiology. She authored more than 170 Pubmed-listed publications, including over 40 papers in peer-reviewed international journals and book chapters, several books and manuals in Neurology. She received several prestigious International Awards, including Bruce S. Schoenberg International Award in Neuroepidemiology for her research in post-stroke epilepsy, European Education Award of the Commission on European Affairs of the International League against epilepsy (ILAE) and ILAE Ambassador Award.

