

Christian Lange, M.D.

Department of Internal Medicine 1, Johann Wolfgang Goethe University Hospital Frankfurt a. M., Germany

Dr. Christian Lange is a trainee in Internal Medicine and Gastroenterology / Hepatology at the Johann Wolfgang Goethe University Hospital Frankfurt am Main, Germany. He completed Medical School at the University of Tübingen, Germany, as well as at King's College School of Medicine in London, UK. Recently, he completed a postdoctoral research fellowship in the Laboratory of Prof. Dr. D. Moradpour, Department of Gastroenterology and Hepatology, University Hospital of Lausanne, Switzerland. His main research interests include genetic and non-genetic host determinants influencing the natural course and treatment outcome of hepatitis C virus infection.