

Despina Moraitou is Assistant Professor of Cognitive Geropsychology in the School of Psychology, AUTH, Greece. She is author and co-author of 44 articles published in international and Greek journals and books. Her research interests lie on the psychology of lifespan development and aging, and specifically cognitive and affective processes in cognitively healthy and pathological aging. She is President-elect of the “Division 7 – Applied Gerontology” of the “International Association of Applied Psychology (IAAP)”.