

Ioannis Milonas is Emeritus Professor of Neurology at Aristotle University of Thessaloniki and Coordinator of the Dpt. of Neurology at Interbalkan Medical Center of Thessaloniki, Fellow of the European Academy of Neurology-FEAN. He was Head of the Dpt. of Neurology, AHEPA University Hospital in Thessaloniki.

He was President of Hellenic Society of Neurology, European Committee for Treatment and Research in Multiple Sclerosis-ECTRIMS, European Neurological Society.

His main interest is Multiple Sclerosis and more specifically clinical trials, epidemiology, natural history and experimental autoimmune encephalomyelitis.