

Massimo Puoti is a Specialist in Gastroenterology and in Infectious Disease. From 1988 consultant in the department of Infectious Diseases of the AO Spedali Civili of Brescia, Italy a General Teaching Hospital. From 2005 to 2010 he served as Associate Professor of Infectious Diseases in the School of Medicine of the University of Brescia. From November 2011 chief of the Infectious Disases Departmen of the AO Ospedale Niguarda Cà Granda the largest hospital in Milano, Italy. The main fields of research of dr. Puoti are Hepatitis Viruses and HIV infections. Dr. Puoti has published 105 papers on peer-reviewed international journals (including Science, Blood, Hepatology, Journal of Hepatology, Archives of Internal Medicine, Journal of Infectious Diseases, Clinical Infectious Diseases, AIDS, Journal of AIDS etc. ) focusing on epidemiology, fundamental and therapeutic aspects of HIV and hepatitis viruses infections. He is Member of the European Association for the Study of The Liver (EASL), European Society of Clinical Microbiology and Infectious Diseases, Italian Association for the Study of the Liver, Italian Society for the Study of Infectious and Parasitic Diseases, Italian Society for the Study of Sexually Transmitted Diseases. He was a Member of the coordinating committee of Associazione Italiana Studio Fegato (Italian Association for the Study of the Liver) from 2004 to 2007.

Massimo Puoti